IT'S TIME TO GET YOUR FEET WET

Fishing is one of those pastimes where you immerse yourself in the moment and sort of let go of the rest of your crazy life for a while. It's a great way to relax. It's also a great way to get the heart thumping once a fish hits the other end of the line. And if angling's your thing, you'll want to check out the wonderful waterways in Corning & the Finger Lakes, like the Chemung, Canisteo, Conhocton, and Tioga Rivers which make up the Chemung Basin River Trail, not to mention our many streams, small lakes like Waneta, Lamoka, and Loon, as well as pristine Keuka Lake where you'll find trout, bass, landlocked salmon, and more.

But you don't have to fish to get out on the water and explore. With launch sites in nine Steuben County communities located along the Chemung Basin River Trail, there are miles of breathtaking scenery to be experienced as you paddle your canoe or kayak, and many chances to see bald eagles, heron, foxes, beaver, bears, and other native wildlife. ■
